8th November 2019

Hello everyone,

I just wanted to introduce myself again and to say a huge thank you for making me feel so welcome. When I have been out and about before and after school, it has been lovely when parents have taken the time to stop and talk to me or have given me a smile. It is only my fifth day as Headteacher at Stanstead but I already feel like part of the family.

Involving parents in the decision-making and education process is crucial and I am always pleased to see parents to talk through issues that are important to them. I would like the opportunity to meet as many parents as possible and will therefore be holding a short introductory meeting on Tuesday 19th November at 2:45 pm in the school hall. After a brief presentation, I will be available to answer any questions and we will have the opportunity to share ideas that you may have for the future development of the school.

On another matter, as part of my drive to improve communication and to seek your views I will soon be sending out a questionnaire for you all to complete. The simplest way to complete this is online (via your phone or another electronic device). That said, paper copies will also be sent home with your children if you prefer to complete it by hand.

On a similar note, and to improve communication, I would like the school to begin to communicate with you via email and would ask you all to add your current email addresses to the contact form which will be sent out to you in the next few days. If you don't have an email address we will continue to communicate with you via paper.

I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible on Tuesday 19th November.

Yours sincerely

Graham Cullen
